

Pilot Episode

A tight knit group of teenagers from "Palmetto" get back together after a wild summer vacation and share stories. We are introduced to a new kid from the other coast of Florida named Garrett. He swipes keys from his parents boat and quickly joins close with the group by hosting an illegal welcome back to school party. A year long relationship between Tyler and Mallory is tested when Tyler clashes with his parents, gets into a fight with the school quarterback, and questions her loyalty when her old friend comes around.
